A B O U T

We believe that every American, during pre and post-pandemic, should have access to high-quality protective gear to ensure their safety and the safety of others.

While the media outlets and government officials struggle to deliver accurate advice and knowledge about COVID-19, we aim to keep the American people educated on how to prevent the spread of this virus and how to avoid further rapid outbreaks.

Comprised of art, manufacturing, and technology professionals, we created this company with one mission:

to protect one another from spreading COVID-19 so the American population can return to regular interaction.
